BUSINESS RESEARCH AND DESIGN PHASE

Before you file for a business license, secure funding, or select a location; first evaluate what need your service or product will address and if your idea is realistic and achievable.

- 1 Conduct research on your product or service idea, the need for your product/service, the target customer base, competitors, and suppliers.
- 2 If your research indicates that your idea is viable, next you will write a business plan – this step is essential if you require financing to implement your business. Your business plan must specifically describe:
  - a. The service you will provide or the product(s) you will produce,
  - b. The price structure for your service or product(s),
  - c. The typical customer and the marketing plan to reach the intended audience,
  - d. The differences between your service/product and that of your competitors,
  - e. Your supply chain and needed resources (funding, supplies, facility/office space, equipment, employees, etc.),
  - f. Projections for sales and growth plan over the next three to five years,
  - g. Business structure and day-to-day operations.
  - h. Timeline of activities.

LICENSING AND OPERATIONS

Once you have thoroughly researched the market and defined the parameters of your endeavor, you must address the legal aspects of establishing your business.

- 1 Determine the correct business structure for your organization - Sole Proprietorship, General Partnership, Limited Liability Company (LLC), C-Corporation, or S-Corporation.

Start your supply chain off correctly by selecting an attorney and accountant for your business (refer to the Resource Directory for local professionals) – these professionals will provide guidance on selecting the correct legal entity based on the unique characteristics of your industry. It is essential that a solid structure is in place so you can focus on the daily operations of your business. Revisit your business structure on an annual basis with your CPA to discuss needed modifications and ways to decrease tax liabilities.
- 2 LLCs and corporations must file appropriate business entity documents with Virginia's State Corporation Commission - <https://www.scc.virginia.gov/>.
- 3 Obtain a tax identification number –
  - a. Internal Revenue Service - <http://www.irs.gov/Businesses/Small-Businesses-&-Self-Employed/Apply-for-an-Employer-Identification-Number-%28EIN%29-Online>
  - b. Virginia Department of Taxation - <http://www.tax.virginia.gov/content/register-business>
- 4 Apply for a business license at the Commissioner of the Revenue's office – The application is available on-line at <http://www.staunton.va.us/directory/departments-a-g/commissioner-of-the-revenue/business-license>.
- 5 For sole proprietor or partnership that will conduct business under an assumed/alias name, you must file a Fictitious Name affidavit at the Staunton Courthouse. Remember to check on the availability of your business name, and have two or three options in the event that your first choice is already taken. More information is available from the State Corporation Commission - <https://www.scc.virginia.gov/clk/befaq/fict.aspx>.
- 6 Select the ideal location for your business - Does the location of your business comply with local zoning laws? Do you need office space outside of your home? Consult with the City of Staunton's Planning and Inspections Department - <http://www.staunton.va.us/directory/departments-h-z/planning-inspections/staff-contacts>. Also refer to the list of commercial real estate agents in the Resource Directory.
- 7 Protect your business entity and supply chain with the appropriate amount and type of insurance. Your insurance needs to cover potential liabilities that are present for your type of business, and it is critical to select an agent that understands your field. Three basic plans – general liability, worker's compensation (if your business has three or more employees), and renter's insurance. Review your policies and make necessary changes on an annual basis. The Resource Directory includes a listing of local agents.
- 8 Safeguard your company's branding and service marks.
  - a. Trademarks – visit <http://www.uspto.gov/trademark> to determine if your business needs a trademark and to learn how to apply.
  - b. Trademark and Service Mark registration – managed by the State Corporation Commission's Division of Securities and Retail Franchising; http://www.scc.virginia.gov/srf/bus/tmsm\_regis.aspx
  - c. Copyrights - Protect your work with a copyright. Visit <http://www.copyright.gov/> for instructions on how to apply.

- 9 Strengthen your operations with appropriate contracts. Consult with your attorney and review templates at the following resources:
- a. <http://www.bplans.com/>
  - b. <http://www.entrepreneur.com/formnet/index.html>

    - v. Online Businesses - <https://www.sba.gov/content/start-online-business>
- 11 Identify and secure funding to launch your business. In addition to the commercial lenders listed in the Resource Directory, consult with the following regarding small business loans and grants:
- a. Staunton Enterprise Zone - <http://stauntonbusiness.com/site-location/enterprise-zone/>
  - b. Staunton Creative Community Fund (SCCF) - <http://stauntonfund.com/>
  - c. Small Business Administration (SBA) - <https://www.sba.gov/category/navigation-structure/loans-grants>

All of the measures listed above will reduce your operating costs, assist in increasing your revenues, provide ways to improve efficiencies, assist with future innovations, and potentially decrease the amount of investment necessary to produce your goods or provide your services.
